March 2010 Edition

moser trades.

Dear caravanning retailer,
here is a breath of fresh air from Germany!

As one of the leading European manufacturers of caravanning tents we are particularly happy to be able to now supply our products in the UK. We meanwhile already supply over 20 retail partners and are delighted with the brisk demand. With today's newsletter we would like to introduce you to the company dwt and its products in more detail. Be inspired by top quality tents from Germany!

„dwt tents and awnings stands out due to it having one of the largest product ranges in Europe. The frames as well as the majority of models are manufactured by over 80 employees in their own factory in Germany.“

Wendelin P. Moser / Managing Director of moser trades., International Trade Agency

News

For the first time dwt tents exhibited on their own stand at the NEC in Birmingham. From 23rd to 28th February 2010 we presented product highlights from the current range at the Boat and Caravan Show. The trade fair stand was very popular with retailers and also end customers. "I am delighted that we are able to present such interesting products to new customers", said Matthew Sharpe from White Arches Caravans. "Added to this dwt tents offer a very good quality/price ratio in my opinion."

Products

240 cm or 300 cm deep?
Just as you like!

At first glance the Royal 240 catches the eye with its attractive, comfortable appearance. On closer inspection it has a great deal more to offer – very high quality materials, a genuine cosy atmosphere and lots of equipment details to make you feel at home.

Good to know

The dwt camper tip of the month:
Mountains, forest, coast...or more?

There are so many travel destinations and all climates and topographical conditions are different. This is why the right choice of camping equipment is particularly important.
